DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE
Patent and Trademark Office
37 CFR Part 2
Patent and Trademark Automated Search System Fees

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Listing of suspension of final rule
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (Office), on December 11, 1989, amended the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases, Parts 1 and 2 of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, setting forth the fees for public access to the Office's text data bases: the Automated Patent System (APS) and the automated trademark search system (T-Search). 54 FR 50942. That final rule became effective on February 12, 1990. On that date, 37 CFR 2.6(w), dealing with T-Search fees, took effect, but was immediately suspended by the Commissioner.

The collection of the fee was initially suspended to permit users to become familiar with the T-Search system. The T-Search system has been available to the public since April 1989, a sufficient time for users to become familiar with the system. Therefore, as provided in the final rule, the Office now gives notice that the suspension is lifted. The Office will begin to collect the fees set forth in 37 CFR 2.6(w) sixty (60) days from the date of this notice. Cost estimates based on usage and actual costs are available for inspection in the Office of Long-Range Planning and Evaluation, Room 507, Crystal Park 1, Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia.
Dates: The suspension of 37 CFR 2.6(w) is lifted as of Nov. 13, 1990. The collection of fees under 37 CFR 2.6(w) will begin on November 13, 1990
For Further Information Contact: Frances Michalkewicz by telephone at (703) 557-1610 or by mail to her attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Reference Collection of U.S. Patents Available for Public Use in Patent Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent Depository Libraries (PDLs), receive current issues of U.S. Patents and maintain collections of earlier-issued patents. The scope of these collections varies from library to libary, ranging from patents of only recent years to all or most of the patents issued since 1790.

These patent collections, which are organized in patent number sequence, are available for use by the public free of charge. Each of the PDLs, in addition, offers supplemental reference publications of the U.S. Patent Classification System, including the Manual of Classification, Index to the U.S. Patent Classification, Classification Definitions, and provides technical staff assistance in their use to aid the public, in gaining effctive access to information contained in patents. CASSIS (Classification And Search Support Information System); which provides direct, on-line access to Patent and Trademark Office data, is available at all PDLs. Facilities for making paper copies of patents from either microfilm or paper collections are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent collections among the PDLs and in their hours of service to the public, anyone contemplating use of the patents at a particular library is urged to contact that library, in advance, about its collection and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

Reference Collection of U.S. Patents Available for Public Use in Patent Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent Depository Libraries (PDLs), receive current issues of U.S. Patents and maintain collections of earlier-issued patents. The scope of these collections varies from library to libary, ranging from patents of only recent years to all or most of the patents issued since 1790.

These patent collections, which are organized in patent number sequence, are available for use by the public free of charge. Each of the PDLs, in addition, offers supplemental reference publications of the U.S. Patent Classification System, including the Manual of Classification, Index to the U.S. Patent Classification, Classification Definitions, and provides technical staff assistance in their use to aid the public, in gaining effctive access to information contained in patents. CASSIS (Classification And Search Support Information System); which provides direct, on-line access to Patent and Trademark Office data, is available at all PDLs. Facilities for making paper copies of patents from either microfilm or paper collections are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent collections among the PDLs and in their hours of service to the public, anyone contemplating use of the patents at a particular library is urged to contact that library, in advance, about its collection and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

NOTICE OF RECLASSIFICATION AND REQUEST FOR COMMENTS

Pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 9, the art classified in Class 364, Electrical Computers and Data Processing Systems, subclasses 200, General Purpose Programmable Digital Computer Systems, 513, Artificial intelligence (e.g. speech and signal conditioning, self-organizing robot control), 518, Control of data presentation, through 523 (all of the indented subclasses under subclass 518), and 900, Miscellaneous digital data processing systems, is undergoing reclassification. Documents currently classified in these subclasses will be reclassified into a new class - tentatively entitled, Information Processing System Organization. Subclasses 200, 513, 518-523 and 900 will then be abolished. In a seperate reclassification project, Class 364, subclass 300 has already been abolished and the art contained therein has been reclassified into appropriate other existing subclasses in Class 364. This was done by Classiication Order No. 1365, efective June 5, 1990.

The creation and use of the tentative new class is intended to follow the standard rules and practices of the U. S. Patent and Trademark Office Classification System. In this regard, a tentative hierarchical array (schedule) or primary subclasses, usually referred to as outdented subclasses or "outdents", has been developed for the new class, and appears later in this Notice along with a definition of the class and for each proposed subclass. Indented subclasses will be developed for each outdent in the course of the reclassification project, documents in each outdent being assigned to appropiate indented subclasses.

The tentative new outdented subclasses listed below were developed based on a review of claimed embodiments of U. S. patents currently assigned as originals in the aforementioned subclasses under reclassification, and are intended primarily to provide for the claimed subject matter of patents. Thus, the first occurring subclass (starting from the top of the schedule) which explicitly provides for any portion of the subject matter of any claim of a patent properly classifiable in the new class will become the "original" classification of that patent.

The public is invited to comment in writing on the proposed new class title, its definition, its tentative schedule of subclasses and the subclass definitions which are set forth below. Comments and suggestions should be submitted before November 13, 1990 and should be addressed to: Mr. Kendall Dood, Chemical-Electrical Classification Group, U. S. Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Definition of the Class

I. GENERAL STATEMENT OF THE CLASS SUBJECT MATTER

This is the generic class for processing systems and corresponding methods for performing information processing functions; and methods for controlling operations of said processing systems.

II. SCOPE OF THE CLASS

This class is limited to processing systems and functions which are concerned solely with the movement of non-specified information and the processing thereof, among any one or combination of processing elements, memory elements, I/O elements and processing systems. Where the systems are concerned with movement of a specific type of information and processing thereof or a specific end use for the information external to this class, see the SEARCH CLASS notes below.

This class is limited to processing systems and functions in which memory element(s) are addressed or accessed by processing or I/O elements. For the internal structure of the memory element(s), see the SEARCH CLASS notes below.

This class is limited to systems in which further significant processing occurs in addition to that involving error detection and correction. For systems directed solely to error detection and correction, see the SEARCH CLASS notes below.

This class is limited to systems in which further significant processing occurs in addition to mutiplexing and communication of information. For systems directed solely to multiplexing and for systems directed solely to addressing and communication between processing systems via a communication medium, see the search NOTES below.

SEARCH CLASS:

340, Communications, Electrical, subclasses 825+ for systems directed solely to addressing and communication between processing systems via a communication medium.

364, Electrical Computers and Data Processing Systems, appropriate subclasses, for systems concerned with movement of a specific type of information and processing thereof, or a specific end use for the information other than provided for in this Class (364).

365, Static Information Storage and Retrieval, appropriate subclasses, for the internal structure of memory elements per se.

370, Multiplex Communications, appropriate subclasses, for systems directed solely to multiplexing.

371, Error Detection/Correction and Fault Detection/Recovery, appropriate subclasses, for systems directed solely to error detection and correction.

III. GLOSSARY

Information:
Intelligence used to control and provide the basis for data processing. It includes address, data, control and status.

Instruction:
Coded information for causing a processing element to perform one or more of its operations.

Processing element:
Apparatus which performs control, arithmetic, and/or logical operations.

Processing function:
Operations which cause a predefined sequence of events to occur.

Memory element:
Apparatus which provides storage of information.

Input/output element:
Apparatus which carries out necessary operations for transferring information between processing elements and/or memory elements, and external elements.

Processing system:
An arrangement of processing element(s), memory element(s), and I/O element(s) which coordinate to acomplish information procesing function(s).

Subclass Definitions

1 COMMUNICATION AMONG PROCESSING SYS TEMS:

Subject matter under the class definition wherein multiple processing systems communicate via a communication medium and significant information processing occurs.

(1) Note. Each processing system typically contains an element dedicated to facilitating communication with another processing system.

2 INFORMATION TRANSFER WITH BUFFERING FUNCTIONS:

Subject matter under the class definition including means or steps, involving buffering structure or operations, which change the speed of information exchange among any combination of processing element(s), memory element(s) and I/O element(s).

SEARCH THIS CLASS, SUBCLASS:

Conversion of PTO Telephone Numbers

Effective October 13, 1990, the Patent and Trademark Office organizations in the Crystal Plaza buildings will convert from the existing 557 exchange to either a 308 or 603 exchange. Organizations in Crystal Plaza buildings 2, 3, 3/4 and 4 will convert to a 308 exchange. Organizations in Crystal Plaza buildings 1 and 6 will convert to a 603 exchange.

The C&P Telephone Company has arranged for a 90-day intercept service to be activated on October 13 to coincide with the telephone number conversion. The intercept service is designed to provide the caller with the new telephone number for those calls made to 557 numbers that have been converted. For example, if a call comes in to a 557 number that has been converted to the new 308 exchange, the intercept service will notify the caller of the new 308 telephone number.

This conversion will affect all of the Patent Examining Groups, Trademark Law Offices, and a number of support groups located in the designated buildings.

A copy of the PTO Organizational Directory which captures changes occurring since the directory was last published, as well as the new telephone numbers for those organizations affected by the conversion is provided. For your information, some of the more frequently called organizations are listed below:

Reference Collection of U.S. Patents Available for Public Use in Patent Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent Depository Libraries (PDLs), receive current issues of U.S. Patents and maintain collections of earlier-issued patents. The scope of these collections varies from library to libary, ranging from patents of only recent years to all or most of the patents issued since 1790.

These patent collections, which are organized in patent number sequence, are available for use by the public free of charge. Each of the PDLs, in addition, offers supplemental reference publications of the U.S. Patent Classification System, including the Manual of Classification, Index to the U.S. Patent Classification, Classification Definitions, and provides technical staff assistance in their use to aid the public, in gaining effctive access to information contained in patents. CASSIS (Classification And Search Support Information System); which provides direct, on-line access to Patent and Trademark Office data, is available at all PDLs. Facilities for making paper copies of patents from either microfilm or paper collections are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent collections among the PDLs and in their hours of service to the public, anyone contemplating use of the patents at a particular library is urged to contact that library, in advance, about its collection and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

MARKS PUBLISHED FOR OPPOSITION

The following marks are published in compliance with section 12(a) of the Trademark Act of 1946. Applications for the registration of marks in more than one class have been filed as provided in section 30 of said act as amended by Public Law 772, 87th Congress, approved Oct. 9, 1962, 76 Stat. 769. Opposition under section 13 may be filed within thirty days of the date of this publication. See rules 2.101 to 2.105.

A separate fee of two hundred dollars for opposing each mark in each class must accompany the opposition.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).
